Profitability Insights

Which Category and Region Drive the Most Profit?

The Electronics category is the most profitable, generating approximately 11.6M in gross profit, significantly higher than all other categories. This indicates that Electronics contributes the greatest profit to the business, not just the highest revenue.

At the regional level, Central, South, and North are the top-performing regions, each generating approximately 4.9M in gross profit. The small variation across regions suggests that profitability is distributed relatively evenly geographically, while product category performance is more concentrated in Electronics.

Sales Growth Analysis

How Did Sales Grow Year Over Year?

Sales YTD reached 23.76M vs 47.24M previous year, showing a 50.31% YoY decline.

The Total Sales by Year-Month chart reveals strong seasonality with peaks around Q4 each year, but overall 2024 sales are tracking significantly lower than 2023 and 2022.

This indicates a sharp drop in demand or possible data gaps for recent months.

Returns Analysis

Which Products / Reasons Drive Highest Return Rates?

Product return rates are tightly clustered between 5.40% - 6.19%, with Vertex and Pioneer variants showing the highest.

The top return reason is "Damaged" at 8.33%, followed closely by "No Longer Needed" at 8.09% and "Better Price Available" at 7.81%.

Returns are driven more by product quality/logistics issues than pricing, with no single product as a major outlier.

Management Recommendation

- Focus on Electronics : Double down on Electronics category since it drives 11.6M profit, 2x more than any other category.
- Address Sales Decline : Investigate the 50.31% YoY drop. Check if 2024 data is incomplete or if Q4 marketing needs urgent push.
- Fix Damages : Reduce 8.33% "Damaged" returns by auditing packaging/shipping for Vertex and Pioneer products.
- Regional Strategy : Since all regions perform equally at ~4.9M profit, prioritize national campaigns over region-specific ones.
